

Change in Southwest Supply and Acquisition Center Order Acceptance Criteria

Effective: February 1, 2016

Beginning February 1, 2016, the Southwest Supply and Acquisition Center will no longer accept GSA Global Supply customer orders for items without standing GSA Global Supply contract coverage if the total cost of goods sold (COGS) is valued below the FAR micro purchase threshold (currently $3,500). Per FAR guidance, customers are encouraged to use their government purchase cards (GPCs) for making these purchases.

Affected Commodities

This change affects all NSNs, commercial part numbers, and products identified only with item descriptions in the commodity classes managed by the Southwest Supply and Acquisition Center, listed on Attachment 1. It is applicable to all products in these commodity classes without standing GSA Global Supply contract coverage: all NSNs with Acquisition Advice Codes (AAC) NOT equal to H (primarily affects AAC J NSNs), as well as all commercial part numbers and products identified only with item descriptions. NSN AACs are visible on FEDLOG and the Federal Logistics Information Service (FLIS).

This notice does not affect commodities supported by the GSA Acquisition Centers in New York (office and packaging supplies) and Kansas City (tools and hardware).

Affected Ordering Channels

This change is applicable for all GSA ordering channels, including all customer orders placed via the automated FEDSTRIP/MILSTRIP, GSAAAdvantage, GSA Global Supply website, DOD EMALL, and GSA call center ordering channels, as well as non-automated “offline” orders, such as email and fax.

Because GSA Global Supply products without standing contract coverage do not appear on GSAAAdvantage or the GSA Global Supply website, the impact there will be minimal.

Customers attempting to order affected non-contract products below the minimum order threshold via FEDSTRIP/MILSTRIP beginning February 1, 2016 will receive a C8 rejection status.

Limited Exceptions

Exceptions to this policy are U.S. forces stationed OCONUS and Navy ships with DODDACs starting with R or V.
